Thank you for requesting to be a Business Intelligence Group judge!

We are excited to get started as we are working to score the 2023 Stratus Awards for Cloud Computing nominations and need your help!

In the next few days please read and score the nominations below. Simply visit the link to access each of your nominations and after reading each one, use the online form linked at the bottom of the page to score the nomination and provide your feedback.

Feedback comes in two forms: private feedback that is honest and provides nominees insight on what went right and wrong with their nomination; and public feedback that allows nominees to quote judges in promotional materials, giving nominees more credibility and judges exposure for their help. Feedback is optional but highly encouraged.

Your Nominations:

Please have all nominations scored no later than end of day September 5, 2023.

As always, we appreciate all your help. We rely 100% on volunteers from the business community, those with experience and knowledge, to provide their expertise and time to judge our nominations. Please consider helping us, again.

Thank you so much for your valuable time.

Why judge? What is in it for you?

- Recognition - Your name, company name and ideas are shared with our growing audience.
- Promotion – Active judges will be thanked on our online channels and we'll keep an eye on relevant news you share.
- Referrals - Judging has led to business referrals, job offers and other career advancements.
- Instant Karma - Judging gives you instant karma when you share your expertise and wisdom with our nominees.

If you are NOT willing – no harm. Thank you for your consideration.
